A LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Friends,

Community Rowing turned a corner in 2010—we crossed a finish line with the successful close of our boathouse campaign. Most communities would be satisfied with the construction of a landmark building, but we know better. We know that landmarks exist to breathe more life into the beating heart of communities, and we all understand that the completion of our home is just the beginning of our challenge to make this city a warmer, better place to be.

We haven’t lost any time getting started on our new challenge. In the year that we sent in our last payment to Consigli Construction and closed the campaign, we also founded the Institute for Rowing Leadership (IRL), the first-ever advanced level training program for rowing coaches; we expanded our outreach programming to include boys in the Boston Public Schools and even more adaptive athletes; we established a Military Rowing Program for veterans; we opened a thriving satellite site in New Bedford; and we increased the number of people we introduced to the sport of rowing by more than five hundred people over 2009.

We also said thanks to Jane Morse, who is stepping down but staying on the board after seven mind-bogglingly effective years as CRI’s Board President. Jane’s big shoes will be filled by Lila McCain, longtime CRI rower and a seasoned leader in business and non-profit management.

I hope that everyone shares the excitement I experience every day here at CRI as we launch our 2011 programming and events. Together with the students and teachers in the IRL certificate program, we are going to work hard to improve our processes and programming to establish a new level of excellence for communication, coaching, public access, and affordability. We’ve increased our grant requests twofold, we will continue to develop and retain the best coaches in the United States, and our leadership team is steadily improving.

As a special note, I would like to welcome Ellen Minzner back to CRI as the Director of Outreach. Ellen was one of the early leaders of G-ROW, is a world champion rower, and recently received a Masters Degree from Tufts University focusing on youth sports and their role in community development. Ellen will raise the bar for CRI’s outreach programs, and we are delighted to have her on board.

After the flurry of growth over the past few years, 2011 will be a year to take stock, to look inward and deliver the best possible experience to all of our rowers -- both on the water and off. By building a stronger community here at CRI, we truly are enriching the community as a whole.

With heartfelt thanks to each and every one of you who make up the fabric of this vibrant place.

Sincerely,

Bruce H. Smith
Executive Director
OVERVIEW

In 2010, CRI served 3218 youth and adults in one or multiple programs representing a 7% increase over the previous year. In 2010:

- Junior, Adult and Sculling Learn to Row Programs enrolled a total 1794 new rowers.
- Sculling enrollment increased 15% with classes registering 389 up from 330 in 2009.
- Summer Youth Programs expanded 30% with a total enrollment of 592 registrations.
- Men’s and women’s competitive teams experienced a 16% increase for a total of 61 rowers.

CRI’s Varsity Girls Team—set the course record with the Jr. Women’s light-weight eight (8+) rowing in the Mighty Lighty winning the National Championship. The girls competitive summer program won gold medals in the pair (2-), Four (4+), and the eight (8+) rowing at the Canadian Henley. During the fall season the girls astonished the competition by setting a HOCR course record.

CRI’s Varsity Boys Team—placed 5th at Youth Nationals with their heavyweight coxed four (4+), a split second behind third (and fourth), which makes for the team’s second best year at this competition. The Jr. Men’s eight (8+) placed second overall at Club Nationals last summer, beating all the Development Camp boats, and the team’s best showing so far at Club Nationals. At Canadian Henley, the team placed fourth in the A Final representing a significant leap over previous years.

Novice Girls Team—experienced the team’s most successful head racing season yet. At the Textile River Regatta (TRR) the girls placed 1st in the Girls Novice 8+ with a time of 23:53, more than a minute faster than their next competitor. At the New Hampshire Champs, the girls finished 2nd and also finished 4th & 8th out of a 19 entry field. At the Head of the Fish the girls performed beyond expectations and won the Girls Jr. Novice 8+ race to claim a famous Fish Head, the team’s first ever! In addition their B boat took 2nd place.

Novice Boys Team—earned gold at Regionals in the Novice Boys’ four (4+), Gold in the Novice Boys’ eight (8+), with a second eight (8+) in the grand final and Bronze in the Second Novice eight (8+). At the Textile River Regatta the boys won gold in the Novice eight (8+) and New Hampshire Championships/Silver in the Novice eight (8+) Head of the Fish/Silver in the Novice eight (8+) and Bronze in the Novice four (4+).

Scullers—achieved one 6th place finish at the Head of the Charles Regatta with a total of four CRI scullers finishing in the top 25 overall.

Women & Mens Competitive Teams—secured second place in the overall points trophy at the Head of the Charles Regatta, winning gold in the Light A 4+, Club A 8+, Open AA 2-, and Club B 8+, sliver in the Club A 4+, Open B 8+, Ltwt B 4+, Open D 2-, Club A 4x, and bronze in the Club C 4+ and the Ltwt B 4x. The Women’s Club 8+ medaled at the Head of the Charles, finishing in 4th place. CRI’s men’s master team’s first boat broke into the top 10 at the Head of the Charles Regatta.

GS II AM and PM—rowed from March to late November only missing two days because of weather. GS II competed in five races and everyone who wanted to race was able to compete at some point. Roughly eight GS II rowers successfully moved from GS II to one of the competitive teams. GS II also had numerous optional weekend rows and many of its rowers branched out into sculling.
COMMUNITY OUTREACH PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

CRI enrolled 650 youth and adults in free outreach programs to teach rowing and provide access to the Charles River. Valued at $400,000 these programs and partnerships included: Adaptive, G-ROW Boston, Boys Row Boston (BRB), Veterans, Spaulding Hospital, Perkins School for the Blind, Beacon Academy and Newton Special Athletes among others.

In 2010 G-ROW and Boys Row Boston, CRI’s after school rowing and academic support programs served over 220 Boston public school students by partnering with John D. O’Bryant High School, Boston Latin Academy, Brighton High School, South Boston High Schools (Odyssey, Excel, and Monument High Schools), William J. Ostiguy High School, The Josiah Quincy Upper School and the Snowden International High School.

In addition to providing valuable community programs CRI welcomed local government agencies such as the Mass. Department of Recreation and Conservation (DCR), and non-profit groups including the North American Mental Illness (NAMI) Association, WBUR, and the Newton Watercolor Society with meeting and event space free of charge.

Adaptive Rowing—CRI successfully completed its second year offering year round recreational and competitive rowing opportunities to youth and adults with mental and/or physical disabilities. CRI’s Adaptive Committee led advocacy efforts to ensure adaptive rowers are eligible to compete in mainstream rowing events such as the Head of the Charles Regatta and the C.R.A.S.H.-B.’s, the indoor rowing world championship.

- CRI was named Paralympic Sports Club by the US Olympic Committee. The partnership enables CRI to host a Paralympic Experience event, select an athlete and coach to participate in each National Paralympic Experience, and participate in USOC Paralympic Military Programs.

- In June, inspired by CRI’s adaptive athletes, volunteer George Cuddy bicycled across the country to raise awareness and funds for CRI’s Adaptive Program. The grueling trek took sixty-nine days with George safely arriving in Portland, Oregon in late August.

- In July, a 24 year old member of the CRI Adaptive Team was invited to the US Paralympic Rowing Selection Camp in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Also that month, three CRI adaptive rowers enrolled in Dr. Igor Burdenko’s water based strength class for training sessions in the “Burdenko Method.”

- In October, CRI was among four clubs to enter a quad in the first adaptive event of the Head of the Charles Regatta.

G-ROW (Girls Row) Boston and Boys Row Boston (BRB) are CRI’s after-school rowing and academic support programs for more than 200 students (ages 12-18) enrolled in the Boston Public Schools. G-ROW was established in 1998 and since then nearly 100% of all G-ROW girls have gone onto college. CRI launched BRB in the fall 2010 with a grant from the Nesworthy Trust.

- G-ROW Boston was selected a finalist by the Social Innovators Forum for its work in advancing the lives of girls residing in underserved neighborhoods. The Forum identified the program as efficient and results oriented in helping girls reach their full potential and go onto college.
The G-ROW team visited San Diego, California as part of its annual winter training program. Along with double practice sessions the girls toured the University of San Diego, San Diego State University, and University of Southern California. Locally, the girls visited Boston University, Northeastern, UMASS Boston and UMASS/Lowell.

The G-ROW varsity 4+ took 3rd in Mass. Public School League State Championships with the Novice team earning 5th place.

In 2010 G-ROW graduated eight seniors, all of whom are attending colleges such as: Bucknell, Boston College, Old Dominion, University of New Hampshire, UMass Boston, UMass Dartmouth, Emmanuel and Regis College.

Veterans—CRI’s Military Rowing Program provides one time and on going rowing sessions for 100 active and returning service members, many of whom are living with PTSD or physical trauma.

CRI hosted veterans along with their family members to participate in Learn to Row sessions followed by barbeques on several Sunday afternoons throughout the 2010 summer.

CRI also offered more intensive and ongoing rowing classes to military men and women interested in participating in local regattas. Coaches trained them during the summer and fall with the veterans participating in CRI’s Rumble on the River Regatta held in September.

Awards and News

CRI members volunteer over 3,000 community service hours in 2010
In 2010, over 600 members volunteered more than 3,100 hours worth of community service to benefit the club. Record numbers of volunteers stepped forward to advance our mission of ‘rowing for all’. Volunteers opportunities included helping out at special events such as CRI’s 25th Anniversary Celebration, the Rumble on the River, WBUR Learn to Row, and ongoing opportunities such as gardening upkeep, facilities management, annual phonathon, and boat washing.

Bruce Smith Named 2010 Administrator of the Year by Rowing News Magazine.
Rowing News Magazine selected CRI Executive Director, Bruce Smith as its Administrator of the Year for his work on CRI’s capital campaign, efforts to get other clubs started, such as Community Rowing New Bedford, Massachusetts and Sarasota Rowing Center in Florida, as well as for his advocacy work for community rowing, adaptive programs, and diversity in the sport.

CRI Named Paralympic Sports Club by the US Olympic Committee
In February 2010, the US Olympic Committee formally recognized CRI as an official Paralympic Sport Club for its work as a community-based organization offering youth and adults with physical and visual disabilities sports and physical activities, regardless of skill level. The partnership enables CRI to host a Paralympic Experience Event, select an athlete and coach to participate in each National Paralympic Experience, and participation in USOC Paralympic Military Programs.

Media
Throughout 2010, CRI was able to broaden its media coverage with features and interviews in the Wall Street Journal, Christian Science Monitor, The Boston Globe, CNN, Rowing News, WBUR, and local press outlets such as Channel 4, the Allston-Brighton Tab, and the Newton Tab.
FUNDRAISING HIGHLIGHTS

Fundraising Highlights

In the fall of 2009, CRI was presented with an extraordinary $750,000 Challenge Grant to close out CRI’s $16 million Boathouse for All Campaign. CRI members and supporters strongly responded to the matching opportunity and ultimately exceeded the goal by raising a total of $803,000. Thanks to the tremendous response CRI was able to officially close out its boathouse campaign, establish an endowment and become debt free. Other fundraising highlights of FY10 include:

- Raising $75,000 from 403 donors for the annual appeal, a 40% increase in gifts and a 50% increase of donors since fiscal year 2009.
- Hosting 13 corporate rowing programs bringing in $55,000 in revenue. Corporate clients included Suffolk Construction Company, Biogen, Genzyme and Kiva Systems.
- Securing $81,000 in revenue from 29 community room rentals.
- Raising $142,000 in foundation grants and donations for G-ROW Boston, representing a 14% increase from the previous year. Foundation grants were awarded by Bank of America, New Balance Foundation, State Street Foundation, Global Sports Development, and the David Retik and Christopher Mello Foundation, TD Bank North, Sovereign Bank.

“It has been an honor to serve as Community Rowing’s Board President these past seven years. We have gone from shuffling boats in and out of a skating rink each season to conceptualizing, raising funds for, and constructing one of the most extraordinary boathouses in the world. That experience in itself was incredible, but what inspired me most was the way our community came together and gave of themselves--time, money, expertise, and spirit--because we all believe in the power of rowing to change lives. We are a part of something bigger than ourselves, and I know that we will fulfill the promise of our new facility with the same generosity and dedication that brought us here today. Thank you all so much for all you’ve done.”

Community Rowing, Inc. (CRI) was founded in 1985, by a group of Olympic and national team rowers who wanted to widen the circle of rowing and secure public access for rowing on the Charles River. Today, CRI is a thriving non-profit with 30 programs, and a fleet of over 75 sweep and sculling shells. With more than 3,000 participants, CRI is the largest and most successful community-access rowing facility in the United States.
